New Orleans, September 27.-Warme weather in the past two or three days has had the effect of increasing to some extent the number of new cases of the prevailing type of yellow fever, but it has equally had the effect of sending down the death rate. There were twenty-three cases on Saturday, seventeen yesterday, and up to halfpast 6 o'clock today twenty-one cases. But there were only two deaths on Sat-

Present experience, therefore, proves that warm weather adds to the number of cases, weather diminishes the number of cases and enlarges the death rate. This is the record at nightfall:

A Hospital Welcome.

Captain Wylly led the way across the marsh to a big and handsome house built in ante-bellum fashion, and on the porch of this the committee was greeted by Colonel David C. He is gighty-one years of daughter, Mrs. Burke Spalding, at her home on Sapelo. He is eighty-one years of age now, but still enjoys good health and had a pleasant word for all who were presented to him. Mrs. Spalding's husband, who died some years ago, was the great grandson of the famous Thomas Spalding, who purchased Sapelo island in 1803 and who handed down an estate of tremendous value to the succeeding geneons of his family up to the time of the war. After dinner they were all placed in wagons and driven up to the site of the former dwelling of Thomas Spalding, which is situated in the center of a magnificent grove of live oaks, on a slight elevation facing one of the finest beaches that there is along the coast. The walls of the old house are still standing, some of them six feet thick. Back of it are long rows of tumble-down buildings that once held hundreds of happy and contented slaves. Further back are fragments of the foundations of what were once huge barns and cotton houses.,

Representative Thomas and Tom Cobb rether with several other able-bodied members of the party, went fishing. Cap-tain Wylly said that there were so many fish in the water about the island that they spoiled navigation, and Thomas said that he had frequently been called upon to clear the creeks down in Ware county of the sharks and stingarees which in-habit those waters. Some time before midnight the fishing party returned with a channel cat, weighing three ounces and a half, which had jumped into the hoat af ter a sandwich. During the same period of time one of Captain Wylly's negroes had gone out in a flat-bottom skiff and cap-tured enough trout and mullet for breakfast for the cntire party.

Senator Dunwody started out with a mule and a buggy to make a personal in spection of the interior of the island, and couple of hours afterwards a relief expedition, sent out through the thoughtful ness of Mrs. Spalding, located him in a marsh about a mile from the house and succeeded in extricating him by borrowing hydraulic derrick from the governmen dredge at work off shore. Representative Boynton put in all his spare time instructing the natives in agriculture. He spoke for nearly an hour to one group of negroes in a cotton patch back of the old plantation, illustrating his remarks by drawing diagrams in the mud with his ne, and when he got through one of the negroes said;

"Gaar waw nasbah wah nit!" After that Representative Boynton confined his conversation to the white popula

A Further Inspection.

The next morning Captain Wylly again took charge of the committee and they were driven in his wagon over the shell roads of the island to its extreme northern portion and then back again in z'gzag fashion so as to make their inspection as thorough as possible. Of the entire 20,000 arable acres of land on the island which might be worked under a proper system of drainage not more than 600 acres were found in cultivation, and most of this was owned or controlled by the negroes. The canals on the island which were dug by the Spaldings are choked up with mud and weeds and there is a considerable growth of small pines in the level fields which at one time grew enough corn and cotton to make a dozen people rich Some of the fields are level stretches containing four and five hundred acres, with here and there small stretches of marsh. There is a great amount of pine and live oak, but the latter is of practically no value and the former of very little. Every oak, but the latter is of practically no value and the former of very little. Every where, however, there is evidence that Un cle Joe Mansfield was right when he sa that anything would grow on Sapelo, for the soil is undoubtedly rich. This was not only evidenced by the official inspection, but by the remarkable agricultural history of the island, which has been brifly told of before. That it would cost a large amount of money to put the land in shape for proper cultivation is also true.

Changed the Landscape. On their return to the south end the committee ind.vidually expressed their appreciation of the generous hospitality snown them by Captain Wylly, Mrs. Spa'ding and Colonel Barrow, and at about 4 o'clock the Hessie came to the wharf after them. The process of loading the truck which the various members had secured occupied a good deal of time, but finally all of it had been stored on board and the little steamer started off with the waves lapping her gunwales. The committee had effected a good deal of change in the landscape of best to carry as much of the property up to the legislature as they could, rather than bring the legislature down to the island. Arriving at Brunswick the committee were entertained during the evening by the citizens, and early the next morning took a long drive about the city as guests of Messrs. Brobston and Fendig. Through the courtesy of the same gentlemen a swift naphtha launch was secured, and the ertire day was spent in viewing little St Simons, little Cumberland, Long, Central and Jekyl Islands. The description of Sapelo, already given, fits the first four of these except as to size, and it may be that the legislature will take an ecol view of the question and select one of them None of the men who control the island will fix an exact price, but there is good authority for stating that Sapelo can be bought for $125,000 and that the price of the smaller islands will range from $10,000 to blabitants there now are negroes who have descended from the Spalding slaves, and whose affection for their island was too arable acreage of about 10.000, and the price at which it will be offered to the state is said to be $65,000.

A Visit to Jekyl. The committee paid a visit to Jekyl island in order to see what could be done with such properties in the way of physical improvements, and what they look like after such improvements had been made. They were received by Superintendent E. G. Grob and shown through the clubhouse and about the grounds. To step from the scene of desolation and dreariness of the uninhabited islands to the magnificence of this one is to experience a sensation too be-wildering to describe. On the one hand were negro huts; on the other, palace One one island were poor devils who could not afford to pay a rental of $20 a year for their dwelling-on the other were millio aires who pay $20,000 a year for a few Much valuable information of a practicable sort was secured by the committee at Jekyl, however. They inspected the shell roads that have been laid, the foun dations of the houses that have been oull and the gardens that had been planted and all the other improvements of a char acter that would have to be made on any other island whether for the use of felons or financiers. They learned also that trans portation to the mainland was con ly cheap, and that nature provided food i such quantities that all the convicts i Georgia could be supplied all the year rou with very little expense to the state. The Committee Wants Bids. On the way back to Brunswick lun was served on the boat and several o Brunswick's prominent citizens and invited Among them were Acting Mayor Fendig Lieutenant Frank D. Aiken, commandin wick naval reserves; John C. Lehman, o W. Deming, Judge Croyatt, Judge Whit field, Judge Hamilton McWhorter and others. Explanation of the Purchase of the Caustic Potash Is Made.

IT WAS BOUGHT TO MAKE SOFT SOAP THE LADIES STAID WITHIN DOORS to the Factory was Barricaded That Night.

William Charles Tells Why the Door

Chicago, September 27.—The leading event of the day in the trial of Luetgert was the evidence of William Charles, Luetgert's busiress partner.

He explained why, as he claimed, the austic potash in which the body of Mrs. Louise Luetgert is alleged by the prosecu-tion to have been dissolved, was bought. According to Charles's story, the potash was purchased as the principal ingredient of a quantity of soft soap to be used in cleaning up the big factory preparatory to its sale to an English syndicate. The wit-ness said he suggested this method of put-ting the factory in shape himself and that Luetgert acting upon the suggestion dered a barrel of caustic potash weighing 375 pounds sent to the factory in March This was about the time the prosecution claims the negotiations were pending be-tween Luetgert and Davey, the mysterious Englishman, who is said to have represented the syndicate and who borrowed something like $25,000 from Luetgert. Charles also offered an explanation of the apparently barricaded door to the basement stairway by telling about a chase for rats, which a small dog was an active partic-ant. He said that the factory had been nfested by rats for some time and that an effort had been made to get rid of them. The evening of April 30d he and Luetgert, with others, were in the basement when a terrier which belonged to the witness go after a rat. Charles, Luetgert and the others moved boxes, barrels and other obsta-cles to ald the dog in his chase, and the boxes and barrels were hurled in a pile against the door. The barricade of the door was unintentional, he said. It just hapwas unintentional, he said. It just hap-pened that the articles were thrown there without thought of the door at all.

Explains the Caustic Potash Charles said besides the caustic potash two or three barrels of tallow, a quantity of grease and some chipped beef, which was to be used in making the soft soap, was delivered at the factory. He said that he aided Odorofsky and Levandowski, the two laborers employed in the factory, to place some of the stuff in the middle of the vat. He also saw Frank Bialk in the factory at the time. The caustic potash was put in the vat and Luetgert said he would see to turning on the steam and boiling the stuff. Charles said he met Luetgert in a saloon opposite the factory on the evening o the night Mrs. Luetgert disappeared and Luetgert said he was going over to the factory and turn on the steam. At 9 o'clock the same night Charles said he went to the basement of the factory and found Luetgert there and the steam turned on The mixture boiled over once or twice and splashed upon the floor, he said. The following day he visited the factory ment and saw the mixture in the vat. allow was in one portion of the vat and the grease or lard had collected in another Luetgert again turned the steam on the mixture, the witness said. On cross-examination by State's Attor-ncy Deneen. Charles denied he had "doc tored" the books of the concern so as to show a yearly profit of $30,000. This line o ross-examination was objected to by the lefense, but the court permitted it for a time, the result being a complete denia by Charles. He acknowledged that it was e who introduced Promoter Davey etgert, but he said he was de the man as well as Luetgert.

Saw Mrs. Lueigert Weep

Frank Dittier told of meeting Mrs. Luetgert wringing her hands and weeping e occasion. It was during the latter part April, and the witness declared Mrs. Luetgert said the business was broken un Everything was gone and that she was going away also. Later the witness said Mrs Luetgert promised to attend the wedding of his daughter in June and make the pro pective bride a present.

At the close of the afternoon session court ex-Judge Vincent and Attorney Phaen were much pleased over the evidence of Witness Charles. "He told a pretty fair story," acknowledged Assistant State Attorney McEwer at the close of the tnial. "It was one o those stories upon which there is nothing left to cross-examine. First, he sought th opportunity. He says he was in the base-ment of the factory that night and that Luetgert began to make soap. He and Luetgert are the only ones who really know the real object for which that caustic potash was bought. They are not going to tell any other story than the one told by Charles. So what is the use to cross-examine at length on that point? But we have some evidence on this point that wil change the complexion of Charles's evi-dence when it is submitted."

A Loud Protest Goes Up Against the Rowdies.

The Conduct of the Disturbing Parties Is To Be Brought Before Judge Gober This Week.

Jasper, Ga., September 27.-(Special.)-The Hinton camp meeting has left behind it a controversy which Judge Gober will have to settle.

The profanation of the occasion, if all reports be true, was something unusual in Georgia, where there is the deepest respect for religion.

The story is best told by The Herald, of this place, which says:

"It was very plain that there was a great deal of liquor at the camp ground at H.n-ton last Sunday. On every hand could be seen men and boys who had been in close contact with a bottle. It was evident that it could be easily obtained, and the supply seemed to be ample. At night, we have been told, the roads near the camp ground were thronged with men who were drinking, cursing and quarreling. We learn from good authority again that a man with a lantern was seen measuring and selling whisky not over fifty yards from the pulpit while services were in progress. Another man is said to have d the cemetery for a saloon and measured liquor at the foot of a grave but a few hundred feet from the arbor,"

Commenting upon those scandalous pro ceedings. The Herald goes on to say that public gatherings in this county have al ways been marked by exemplary behavior heretofore and it is to be regretted very much that any one had had so little re spect for the church Christianity and themselves as to furnish whisky to a crowd of young men for them to degrade and disgrace themselves by drinking it. No great racket was made, but ladies who desired to go to the meeting at night preferred to remain at home rather than come in con tact with a crowd of drunken men. "We are not running a religious paper,"

Thomas stated to the court that he gave Tibbs no bone, but the meat had some gristle on it. The fresh order called for an extra 5 cents, and that was why he changed the ticket. He did not strike Tibbs unti that gentleman had cursed him. Other guests in the restaurant who were present at the time told the same as related by Tibbs, and stated that Thom one of the witnesses said: "I ordered some pork and I was in the same fix as Mr. Tibbs, except he had beef gristle and I had pork skin. I heard the whole of the row and Mr. Tibbs did not curse Mr. Thomas."

Then this is the way the recorder summed it all up: "Look here, Mr. Thomas, you can't run a restaurant that way. You must run it to feed folks and not to whip them. I will dismiss the case against Mr. Tibbs and will fine Mr. Thomas $5 and costs."

ALTIMORE, Sepember 27.-Outside of little contingent of faithful Boston root ers, who are making merry at the Eutaw house, there is no foy in Baltimore tonight rubber in the crucial the fight for the nen nant, and there seems to be but little probability that the Champions can save it. Hoffer, the "Wizard;" Nops, the Southpaw, and "Brother Joe" Corbett all went down like ripe grain in a hurricane before the terriffic onslaught of Boston's batters until what seemed at first to be a victory for the home team was turned into a rout, the like of which has been seldom witness-d on a ball field.

More than 25,000 people saw it done, and that they witnessed the downfall of their fa-vorites with perfect good humor, gathering about the victors and cheering them at the finish gives the lie direct to two stories that have been current regarding the Balti-more baseball public, viz. that it does not patronize the game, and that "rowdyism" is the rule upon its grounds. There have been few, if any, crowds as large in the been few, if any, crowds as large in the history of the game.

The story of what happened may be briefly told. First came the awful struggle at the gates for tickets, then the straining, pushing and fighting for admission, then the scramble for a place from which the diamond was visible, until every seat had an occupant, every inch of standing room was pre-empted and men and boys clung spiderlike to fences, flagstaffs, telegraph spiderlike to fences, flagstaffs, telegraph poles or any other point of vantage. The Boston "rooters", with their brass band formed so small a part of the vast throng that they sunk into comparative insignifi-cance, but the band played on and the rooters rooted and shouled just the same. Finally the teams came on for practice, and then in due time play began and the multitude settled itself down to watch the Boston opened with a run, then Baltimore made two, then each made three and the score was tied, when Boston added another to its string. Thus far all was well. Bal-timore, 'tis true, had lost the lead, but not

Then the visitors forged to the front with three more tallies.

This was bad indeed, but hope still lived

In Baltimore, and so it ran until that dread-ful seventh inning. Corbett had been crippled by a hot liner early in the play; Nops had been batted out of the box a little later, and Hoffer had been hit for four runs, but still the crowd hoped on. No one looked for a deluge, as Hoffer had apparently steadied him-self and no runs had been made off him in two successive innings. In two successive innings.

All at once it came. Single followed double, double followed single, player after payer crossed the plate until the crowd grew dazed and wondered if it would ever end. The official scorers almost lost their count. Hoffer became discouraged and wanted to go off and sit down, but Cap-tain Robinson kept him in the box. Finally the fusillade of hits was ended. Hoffer came down from the air, everybody took a long breath and the scorers figured out that Boston had made nine runs, all of which were earned. That settled it, and although the Chamons made a feeble rally in their half and batted out three runs, following it up with two more in the eighth, their efforts were not more consequent than are those of men who strive to whistle against the wind. During the volley of base hits in the seventh the crowd was a study. After the two or three were made the vast throng looked serious, then as hits began to pou like water from a trough a smile and then a hearty laugh broke forth, and none could have enjoyed the discomfiture of the Champions more than did their admirers in the vast throng. Of the many hearty and spontaneous bursts of applause none were more ring-ing than that which greeted Hamilton when in the fourth inning, after being trampled upon and severely stunned by Jennings at second, he made a grand run for home on second, he made a grand to the local second, he made a grand to the Lowe's single, collided with Baltimore's fleshy backstop and falling heavily, pluckily crawled toward the base, almost fainting from the shock as he touched it.

Again at the end of the game 10,000 peo-ple gathered about the visitors, shook them by the hand, shouted cheerful pleasantries at them, told them what good fellows and fine players they were and finally sent them away with such a shout of approbation as to make a fitting climax for the great to make a fitting climax for the greatest baseball spectacle Baltimore has ever seen. CON BAKER IS NOT SUSPENDED

Report to That Effect Proves To Have Been Unfounded.

HE WILL ARRIVE TONIGHT

Will Enter the Four-Cornered Race Which Promises To Be the Liveliest of the Season.

There was some talk in cycling circles yesterday of their being a hitch in the big four-cornered bicycle race when it was noticed in the League of American Wheelmen Bulletin that Con Baker had been suspended, but it was through a mistake, suspended, but it was through a mistake, and he was immediately put back again. He has seen Foltz and the mattera has been fixed and he has wired that he will be here tonight to begin training. It turned out to be another Baker that Foltz was

In the meantime the riders here are hard at work and all are confident that they will win out. All the talk about the last Eaton-Walthour match being fixed has aroused the ire of Eaton and he is determined to win out in the coming race. He is so confident that he has $100 that he is anxious to bet that he will beat the bunch or that he will beat Walthour. There are so many people who do not agree with him in this that it is likely that his money will be cov-

Eaton and Repine are working on the track together and they are both hard at work. Repine also has hopes of beating Walthour, but it is very doubtful if any of them will be successful in this, as they have falled heretofere and Bob continues to improve every day. He knows perfectly improve every day. He knows perfectly how to take care of himself and he is doing it now to perfection. He has been doing lighter work on the track for the last week and the rest has done him good, for he is now in better condition than he ever was Walthour is not saying much, but he wil be ready to run the race of his life on Thursday night and he will be harder to beat than he has ever been. They all want to meet Bald, for outside the honor of be ing matched against the champion, they will have a chance to run for the largest purse that has been hung up in the south this year, and they will undoubtedly race before the largest crowd that ever saw a race in the south, for they are going to see Eddle Bald, no matter who it matched

Tomorrow afternoon all four of the con testants will be at work on the track it will be worth a trip to the park to them practice and watch which man has the best chance to win out in the rac Thursday night.

Convention Condemns State Committee for Not Indorsing Chicago Platform.

Letter Purporting To Be from Mr. Bryan Published in One of New York's Papers.

ACCEPTANCE DEPENBS ON TAMMANY

New York, September 27 .- The most im portant development in the Greater New York political situation today was the unanimous nomination of Henry George for mayor by the United Democracy, composed of numerous free silver and Bryan of last fall.

Mr. George polled only 68,000 votes as a labor candidate for mayor of New York. His strength, if he should accept, would be drawn principally from the democratic vote. The United Democracy also adopted a resolution condemning "the action of the state committee in refusing to reaffirm the Chicago platform."

for comptroller and Winfield S. Overton for president of the municipal council. Richard Croker was quoted today as saying that Henry George was "a good man, a fine man," and Mr. George is said to have expressed the hope that Tammany would indorse the Chicago platform.

A belief is current that Mr. George will not accept tonight's nomination if Tammany does not indorse the Chicago platform. On the other hand, the old-time democratic leaders prefer to ignore the silver question altogether. So the democrats are as much worrled over Henry George as the republicans are over Seth Low. The republican city convention will meet in Carnegie hall at noon tomorrow. The talk of the republican leaders is all in favor of the unanimous nomination of Gen eral Benjamin F. Tracy for mayor. The democratic city convention will meet Thursday evening. William Sohmer, a leader among the Germans, a chief in Tammany Hail and at present registrar of New York, seems to be the most promising of the candidates for the Tammany nom ination for mayor. Letter from Mr. Bryan. Much stir was created in political circles today by the publication of a letter purporting to have been sent to Colonel Wiliam L. Brown, of The New York Daily News, by W. J. Bryan, urging that the municipal campaign of Greater New York should be run in harmony with the principles and declarations of the national organization.

one can be found who will vouch for the authenticity of the letter. The letter, besides condemning the Citizens' Union move ment as wrong in principle, says: "A triumph of the democracy of Greater New York, except under the auspices of the issue that animates the party, will have the same moral effect as a renewed and affirmed triumph of the agencies ied by Senator Hanna."

TWO LITTLE BOYS ARE LOST.

They Stray Away from Home-The Police Asked To Find Them. Late yesterday afternoon the police were asked to look out for two little boys who were lost. The request came over the telephone and stated that Mrs. J. A. Apperson and Mrs. Porter, neighbors had both lost little boys and that the children could not be found. Mrs. Apperson resides at No. 148 Logan street and Mrs. Porter near the corner of Logan and Grant streets. Yesterday afternoon the two little boys, who are not much over three years of age, went out to take walk without the knowledge of their parents. When they were searched for they could not be found. The Apperson child was dressed in a blue skirt and a red waist. It was believed the two children had strayed off together and becoming lost, could not find their way back home. A description of the lost children was placed upon the police records and the officers notified to keep a watch cut for them or any information that would tend At a late hour last night the children had not been found.

GAZETTE TAKES GLOOMY VIEW. London Paper Declares England's Concessions Don't Do Any Good.

London, September 27 .- The St. James Gazette this afternoon says: "It is quite clear no concession we can make and no display, however sincere, of our wish to be friendly, has availed one jot to disarm the bitter hostility of those Americans who are always ready for ag-Americans who are always ready for agressive action. Neither is there a shred of evidence to show that the cold, passive dislike which so many Americans who are friendly enough to the industrial Englishman feel for the British government has been warmed in the least degree."

Recalling ex-Secretary Olney's alleged dictum that all connection between a European and an American state is in itself unnatural, The St. James Gazette says: "That some such doctrine is working in the American mind is evidenced by many signs, of which the persistent nursing of the Bering sea dispute is not the least. To Enforce Dispensary Laws from Now On.

Columbia, S. C., September 27 .- (Special.) Home rule was restored to the cities and towns of the state, the alien police were emoved from Charleston and the head of every liquor constable fell in the basket

The proclamations issued announce that they will take effect on Thursday. There will be rejoicing in Charleston and there will be better feelings between the people of the state.

Since the announcement of the governor that he intended on October 1st to remove the members of the constabulary, it has been thought the removal of the metropolitan police force system would follow very scon from the natural order of things, but no one expected that it would come at the same time.

When there were rumors of a deal beween the people of Charleston and the administration a short time ago in regard to this matter, Governor Ellerbe flatly denied that he had communicated with any one or had authorized any one to speak for him. Judging from what he said today t seems that he determined to be just to Charleston and put her on a footing with all the other towns of the state just as soon as he determined to remove the constabulary and entail the enforcement of the dispensary law upon the municipal authorities. He only gave a brief statement. He said:

"I have determined to do away with oll the liquor constables and throw the enforcement of the dispensary law entirely upon the municipal and county authorities. It would have been unjust to discriminate against Charleston in such a matter and the metropolitan force has been removed that she can be on a footing with all the other cities. All municipalities will be expected after October 1st to rigidly enforce the dispensary law."

The following is the proclamation removing the metropolitan police, it being signed by the governor and the other two members of the state board of metropol!tan police commissioners:

police commissioners:

"Whereas, Under the provisions of an act of the general assembly, entitled 'An act to provide for the appointment of a board of police commissioners and for the reorganization of the police, and to provide salaries for the same, in cities and incorporated towns, when deemed necessary or advisable for the better enforcement of law in cities and towns, approved December visable for the better enforcement of law in cities and towns, approved December 24, 1894, A. D., the state board saw fit to place the metropolitan police upon the city of Charleston; and, "Whereas, In the judgment of the state board, it is no longer necessary to continue the metropolitan police upon the city of Charleston; now, therefore, "We, the state board by virtue of the authority vested in us under section 12 of the above amended act, do declare that the board of police commissioners and the marshal and commissioned officers under them for the city of Charleston are hereby abolished and declared vacant on and after the 30th day of September, 1897, A. D." And here is the governor's official an-

And here is the governor's official announcement of his action in regard to the constabulary: constabulary:

"Columbia, September 27, 1897. To all whom it may concern—I. W. H. Ellerbe, governor of the state of South Carolina, by authority vested in me under the statutes hereby declare that every commission as state constabulary as special state constable issued under and by virtue of an act known as the dispensary act, approved March 5, 1897, shall expire on the 30th day of September, 1897, when all such offices shall become vacant. W. H. Ellerbe, governor. J. M. Cooper, private secretary."

A couple of state detectives will #8 em.

A couple of state detectives will be employed by the governor to look after the enforcement of the dispensary law outside of the cities and towns. But there will be no other officers paid by the state to do any of this work.

ENTOMBED MINERS FOUND DEAD. Bodies of Three Men Who Were Caught in the Bell Ellen Recovered. Birmingham, Ala., September 27.-The rescue party at work in mine No. 2 at Bell Ellen, which has been burning since Monday last, so far smothered the flames today us to be able to recover the bodies of three of the entombed miners. The corpses were those of Herman Kramer, Hubbard Foley and Henry Reeves. All were badly charred and decomposed. The condition and location of Reeves's body indicated that he had undertaken to make his way out through the fire and had been roasted alive. The others probably dled from suffocation and were burned afterwards. It is uncertain now how many more bodies are in the mine. Three are known to be there, but there may be even more Whil trying to reach the bodies today Superintendent L. W. Substitution by Salesmen.

It is the habit among some salesmen to endeavor to persuade customers into buying something else than things asked for as the result of the advertising of special tles, the advantages of which are presented in the advertising columns of the newspapers. Very frequently something is offered, guaranteed to be "just as good." It very often happens that the store indulging in this imposition makes more money from a "just as good" preparation, but the cusomer is the loser. Reputable dealers should not try to substitute and customers should be careful to protect themselves by in sisting upon being given what they ask for or going elsewhere to get it.

ATLANTA, GA., September 28, 1897.

The Grounds of Public Conference. And now comes Mr. Charl Schurz with his pen, announcing that the bolters from the democratic party have "earned a right to the public confidence."

This is a very interesting statement. In this country at least the term "public confidence" implies popular confidence and nonular confidence means a large majority of the voters who go to the polls. It is but just to Mr. Schurz to remark that he borrowed his statement from an "address" issued by the bolters of Massachusetts. But, by borrowing it, he becomes responsible for it, and we therefore beg him to inform The Constitution and the public generhas "earned a right to the public confi-

We should like to get hold of the date, the nature of the deed and the name of the place where the performance took place. We do not deny that many democratic believers in the gold standard have earned a right to public confidence. When the issue was made they protested, but when an overwhelming majority of the democrats decided against them they fell into line, and worked for the their acts, that they would rather submit to the party on one issue, than to aid the republicans on other issues.

But what is to be said of the bolting element-the men who, for the sake of principle, as they said, refused to support their party candidates, took themselves out of the organization, and went through the formality of establishing a party of their own? Up to this point, their conduct hardly admits of criticism. It is the duty of men who cannot act with

But the bolters did not pause in their career where patriotism and self-respect would have left them. According to their own confessions, they bolted the party they had organized, and rushed to the support of a party which they had been denouncing up and down for years. To show how they have "earned a right to the public confidence," it is only necessary to say that they declared for the gold standard and voted against it; that they denounced protection and evoted for it, and that they deserted their own platform and candidates. If they did not do this, they represent a ridiculously small part of the voting popula-

Now, we submit that the public doesn't know where to leave these bolters. The people don't know whether the bolters are for the gold standard or against it; for protection or against it, or whetnre, like Mr. Schurz himself, they are out for whatever may be made out of any or all the political parties. Says The Gazette "For more than half a century a strong party in the United States has coveted the West India islands, British, Spanish and French. We refrain from discussing possibilities, but Engishmen should beware of American aggression in the western tropics. What stuff and nonsense! Nothing could posibly be further from the truth than the absurd motives imputed to our government by the British press. The United States has never coveted the West Indies, and what is more, it may be gravely doubted if the sentiment of this country is even in favor of annexing Cuba. Before undertaking to critcise the policy of the United States our British friends should first take the pains to find out what that policy is; or, if nalicious prejudice is at the bottom of their criticism, they should be careful how they indulge in such deliberate misrepresentations.

A Word with Mr. Haas.

A few weeks ago, the city council by unanimous vote, passed an ordinance fixing the maximum charge for delivering baggage within the city limits at This ordinance was intreduced by Alderman Rice, and it was not until the announcement of its adoption was made public that The Constitution knew that the council even considered action on the question.

Indeed, we go further than this and say that The Constitution has no personal ill will to Mr. Haas, and is in position to do him full justice and likewise to insist that he does justice by the public.

But let the public judge as to who is right-Mr. Haas on the one side, or mayor and council and The Constitution and the people on the other.

Let it be remembered that, under the ordinance of the council passed by the unanimous vote of that body, the maximum charge for baggage delivery within the city limits has been fixed at 25 cents. Mr. Haas's company refuses to highly complimentary. abide by this action of the council; it treats it with contempt. It knows that it is entrenched in its position by possessing for a term of years the exclusive right to the baggage privileges of the depot and on incoming trains. There are northern business men. On every account it is to be welcomed. One of the greatest it is to be welcomed. interesting correspondence furnished The Constitution yesterday. It will be seen by this correspondence that another established company asks for the privilege of competition on even terms, pledging to give a $10,000 approved bond that it will charge only 25 cents for delivery to any part of the city, and "even to any territory which might hereafter be taken into the city;" charging only 15 cents for delivery of baggage to any point within one mile of the depot. Unfortunately for the people, and fortunately for the baggage monopoly, the company now holding exclusive depot privileges has a contract for a term of years; but there is some comfort in the fact that this exclusive privilege does not prevent other companies from getting trunks atthe depot for city delivery. If the baggage monopoly could prevent this, it would be in a position where it could make even more extortionate demands on the public. The board of control of the depot will, of course, see to it that the monopoly held by the company now possessing depot privileges is not exercised to any further public detriment than is absolutely required by the terms of the contract. The railroads have. unfortunately, contracted to deliver a "pound of flesh;" and if the contract must be met, the railroads should insist that the public is at least given every facility that is permitted-not one more drop of blood should be spilled than is called for in the contract. An effort will be made to have the council reconsider its action. The baggage monopoly is now seeking a "compromise" which will enable it to charge 35 cents as a maximum charge for city delivery. The Constitution declared as emphatically as it could last Sunday that this proposed "compromise" should be smashed; whereat Mr. Haas got very The personal feeling of Mr. Haas is a matter of perfect indifference to The Constitution. will throw light on the subject.

It is simply a question of having the council legalize an extortion wrung by the possession of exclusive privileges by one company over competitors anxious to do the business at a less rate, but at a disadvantage in reaching the traveling public. In other words, in passing out of the depot, passengers must run the gamut of the baggage monopoly. Those who do so sucessfully can negotiate as they please for the delivery of their baggage on the outside, but those who are unacquainted with the city and its laws will naturally fall into the hands of the monopoly with its higher price. It is a question of the protection of the public.

Mr. Haas seeks to discredit the position of The Constitution in its defense of the action of the council by sounding another tom-tom and pointing frantically in another direction, yelling: "Stop, thief! Stop thief! Yonder goes the Consolidated Company!" He wants to know if the failure of The Constitution to oppose the Consolidated while attacking his "little transfer company" does not indicate "malice somewhere."

Not at all, Mr. Haas; not at all. Your case is entirely different from that of the Consolidated. The Consolidated charges a uniform rate over any one of its lines to any part of the city A ride for a block or for the full length of a line costs the same. You propose to fix a rate clearly discriminating; and worse than that, you propose to take auvantage of your entrenched position to charge more than a company right Company, which has the exclusive bag- across the street from you now charges, and has been charging for years. A Generous Recognition.

The New York Commercial-Advertiser is surprised at the rapid industrial strides which the south has made during the past few years, and in a recent editorial bearing upon the progress of this section, the New York paper gives utterance to its surprise in language

After quoting at some length from the latest official reports as to the growth of the cotton industry, The Commercial-Advertiser says:

This is a remarkable showing. It is safe of industries. The foremost cotton-produc ing area in the world, she has sent her vast crop of raw material to New England, to Manchester and to Birmingham for manufacture: afterwards buying back a part if it at a much higher price as finish ed goods. It is manifest that the wealth of the southern states would be enormously increased if they could transmute their otton into the manufactured product at home, close by the fields where the cotton grows. There is reason to believe that this beneft will ultimately be realized in large

Coming from a newspaper which has often indulged in severe criticism of the south, the foregoing compliment is in the highest significant and shows that the south is beginning to receive that merited recognition which has so long been withheld from her.

Great Britain's Danger.

If recent news dispatches received from London can be relied upon, Great Britain is about to abandon her African expedition for the present year, and to obilize her troops upon the Indian frontier.

Whether the British government is about to take this step or not, there are several prudential reasons which seem to warrant it. In the first place the uprisings in northern India have steadly increased in magnitude and violence during the past few days, and Great Britain cannot possibly close her eyes to the danger which threatens her supremacy over that fertile region. In the second place the African expedition which Great Britain has set out to accomplish within the next few months is purely an aggressive one, and can be abandoned at any time; while the Indian campaign into which she has recently been forced, is a defensive one altogether and requires her undivided strength. Moreover, she needs troops on the In-dian frontier who are used to fighting savages, and the army under Sir Herbert Kitchener, therefore, comes in handily at this juncture. Rather than imperil her supremacy in India, Great Britain can afford to give up the conquest o the Soudan for another year; and for these reasons it is barely possible that the rumors which have reached this country from London are not without

POINTS BY THE WAY.

From Porter Springs comes the informa tion that the waning honeymoon of Mrs. General Longstreet has brought no determination upon her part to resign the position of assistant librarian. It is annour also that she has no idea of getting out of the race for librarian, and counts herself as much a candidate as she did in the days before she became the bride of the venerable veteran. It is the general opinion that Mrs. General Longstreet has given up her place and that her services with the state ceased on her wedding day, but this is far from true, as there was no intimation that she would let go. A leave of absence of twenty-five days was allowed for the honeymoon and it is expected that when this elapses Mrs. Longstreet will re turn to her desk at the capitol.

In the meantime a heated struggle is still on for the librarian's place and all the candidates are making emphatic claims. The friends of Colonel Milledge believe that he has more than a fighting chance, and state that he will come out victor. Mrs. Longstreet, however, is by no means an unknown quantity. It is due to the action of the board of health that no one from Atlanta, whether in the possession of a health certificate or not, can enter Charleston, without having remained in camp ten days. No other city in the south has taken such a position. Here is what The News and Courier has to

In fact, the company cannot get here to play. Field appeared in Atlanta Friday night, and the route touched several other cities before Charleston. This matter has been under consideration for some days, and yesterday the committee determined not to let the minstrels in for ten days after the time they were in Atlanta. The action of the committee may be a disappointment in some circles, but the board of health is determined to protect the city at any hazard.

"Applications have been received from a number of parties in Atlanta who desire to come to Charleston. There are many Charlestonians now in the city of refuse,

Refugees Have Been Here, but Fever Has Never Spread.

DR. ALLEY TELLS THE FEVER'S HISTORY

Gives Information Showing Where It Has Been and the Seriousness of the Epidemics.

The records of the worst epidemics of vellow fever that have existed in this country show that almost without exception the fever confined itself to coast cities and to communities located on some water course. The records show that there have been some very disastrous epidemics, but that they have confined themselves to the localities mentioned above. This strengthens the opinion of eminent physicians that the ties on yellow fever is furnished by Dr. A. R. Alley, who has had the fever and has gone through several epidemics. The first outbreak of yellow fever in the United States of which there is any fever cannot gain a foothold in Atlanta.

Valuable information taken from authori-knowledge was at Boston, Mass., in 1619 It appeared in that city again in 1693 and In New York city the fever appeared in 1702 for the first time and then again in 1743, 1748, 1762, 1791, 1793, 1795. It first ap-reared in Philadelphia in 1699 and was seen there again in 1732, 1742, 1743, 1748, 1762, 1793 and 1795. It was in Baltimore in 1794 and 1795; in Norfolk, Va., in 1747, 1795 and 1855. The disease was in Charleston, S. C., ten times anterior to its appearance in New Orleans in 1796 in a period of ninety-four years. The fever found its way to Savannah n 1820, 1854, 1858 and 1876. Memphis. Tenn felt it in 1873 and 1878. In 1873 and 1874 Pen sacola, Fla., experienced sickness with the lisease, and St. Augustine had it in 1821. In 1819 the population of the city of New Orleans was 45,000. An epidemic of the fever was experienced there that year and 2000 persons were killed by it. At the beginning of the epidemic in New Orleans in 1883 the population was 150,000. About 30,000 of the population fled to points of safety. The average yellow fever mortality for the four weeks ending August 28th of that year was 1,211 deaths per week. The greatest number of deaths from fever in any onth was 5,189, that of August, and the deaths from other causes added to this swelled the number to 6,235, which gave the startling average of 201 deaths per day, nine every hour and one every six or seven minutes. During a whole 1867 the death rate in New Orleans from yellow fever was from 3,800 to 4,000.

bile experienced the fever in 1837, 1839, 1842. 1843 and 1844. The records show that these epidemics of yellow fever were far more malignant than those of late years.

Dr. Alley favors the idea of opening the gates of Atlanta to the fever refugees. He shows that when the fever was epide at Brunswick, Savannah, Jacksonville and Chattanooga the gates of Atlanta were opened to the refugees and they came in by the thousands. At that time there was no fumigation, no quarantine or no health certificates and the fever did not spread. With the improved sanitary condition and the precaution taken he sees no reason why Atlanta should fear an epic fever now, when she received refugees dur-

THIS CAR HAD NO FENDER.

It Killed a Boy and Negligence Is Charged. In the petition filed by Anna Amos yesterday against the Atlanta Rallway Com-pany, in which she seeks to recover $5,000 damages for the death of her thirteen-year, old son, who was a convict at the time he was killed by the trolley car of the company, the charge is made that the company was negligent among other things in not having the car provided with a fender. The suit was filed in the clerk's office yes terday by Arnold & Arnold. It was tried several months ago, when the jury failed to agree and a mistrial was ordered by Judge Berry. The filling of the petition yesterday brings the case again into the courts for ajudication. William Amos, the son of the plaintiff, William Amos, the son of the plaintiff, was at work with the county chaingang on the public road that runs to Lakewood. He with others, it is alleged, was on the track. The petition charges that the motorman was in plain view of the boy, but failed to apply the brakes or stop the car. The boy was killed by the car in sight of his fellows in crime. The suit is filed for loss of services, the plaintiff claiming her son was worth at the time of his death the sum of $10 per month and would have the sum of $10 per month and would have

HERE'S A BIDDER FOR THE FRANCHISE

This Transfer Company Seeks the Privileges of the Union Depot.

TWO LETTERS TELL THE STORY

A Company Which Is Willing To Work for the Prescribed Rates.

MATTER BEFORE THE BOARD OF CONTROL

Mr. Haas Writes a Card Giving His Side of the Discussion-Matter Goes Over Until Monday.

The fight on the ordinance fixing a uniform price which the baggage transfer companies shall charge for carrying baggage to and from the union depot to points within the city limits, which is be ing made by the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company, will be at a standstill until council's meeting Monday, unless new de-fight and those who avored the ordinance orinigally have not changed their minds but the agencies which must prepare the matter for council are absent and the matter will rest until the end of the week. Councilman Howard, of the ordinance committee, before which the question will be considered, is absent in Columbus, O., attending the meeting of American mayors and councilmen and the subject will not be taken up in his absence. Mr. Rice, the author of the audience, is also absent. Recorder Calhoun has postponed making final decision in the cases against the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company until after council meeting Monday. If the ordinance is not reconsidered then he will proceed to dispose of the cases. In the meantime those who are interested in the matter are not idle. Yesterday the Atlanta Parcel and Baggage Company, the leading rival of the At-anta Baggage and Cab Company, directed a letter to the board of control of the union depot with the purpose in view of finding out if it could get an opportunity to bid for the the exclusive right to the depot. The Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company has a practical monopoly of the depot and trains by reason of its exclusive franchise. This franchise it secured from the board of control of the union depot and until yes terday it has never had any rival in bidding for the privilege. Its franchise gives t immeasurable advantage over the other companies, as it has space in the deport and the right to admit its employees inside the depot and on all trains entering i Having such an advantage over its competitors it was not surprising that it manifested its independence by refusing to abide by the provisions of the new law prescribing rates for carrying baggage. It has in several instances refused to carry baggage to points as distant as West End for the price fixed in the ordinance. On the other hand the Atlanta Parcel Company is anxious for the privilege of carrying the baggage at the rate prescribed and it is anxious to get in position where t can do so to best advantage. To this end it yesterday took the first step preliminary to bidding against the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company for the privi-

Mr. Kates, the manages, wrote a letter to Mr. George C. Smith, president of the board of control of the depot, asking for view to bidding for it. Mr. Smith replied that it was a matter wholly with the board and he preferred not to speak at this time about terms. The letter of Mr. Kates and Mr. Smith's reply are published elsewhere.

They tell their own story. What Chairman Smith Says.

To a Constitution representati George C. Smith said on being asked concerning the correspondence published here-

"This is a matter which I cannot with propriety discuss further than to say that the board of control of the depot has a contract with the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company for a stated time. We must live up to our contract. I did not make it, but found it in operation when I came to Atlanta. It must be remembered, however, that while that company has the exclusive privilege of having its agents solicit business in the depot and on the trains anybody has the right to get his baggage at the depot and to have it delivered by whom they please. The depot to this extent belongs to the public. So long as our contract with the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company exists we will, of course, have to respect it. As a matter of course we cannot open the depot and the trains indiscriminately to agents of all companies, and hence the privilege is to that extent a monopoly, but it is required by the exigencies of the situation. As to the matter of local charges, that is a question which must be settled between the city and the companies." Mr. Jacob Haas's Card.

Mr. Jacob Haas, secretary and treasurer of the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company, published a card in an afternoon paper yesterday in which he made a defense of actions of the property of the published a card in an afternoon paper yesterday in which he made a defense of miss company's policy in fighting the resented in full below, in order that Mr. Haas's petition may be fully understood:

"The Constitution of yesterday made an attack upon the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company, of which I am secretary and treasurer. The Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company has been engaged in carrying trunks to and from the depot for twenty years past. Its charges have been 25 cents for a trunk one and a half miles distance, and 50 cents for a greater distance; but where more than one trunk is carried to the same place, this price has been reduced To do business it is necessary to maintain a large supply of wagons, ready to move in a moment's notice and to go to any part of the city, to accommodate the patrons of the company. The contract of the Atlanta Baggage and Cab Company with the railroads requires that this should be done. In no city in the United States does a responsible transfer company do this work at a less charge.

"The city council recently passed an ordinance requiring that trunks be hauled to all points for 25 cents. This was done without any hearing on the part of the company. The contract of the same price it gets for hauling it one mile, and asking for a graduated scale of prices. This the committee in charge has recommended.

"On vesterday there appeared in the morning paper a most unjust attack upon the transfer company. It was exceedingly strange that such an attack should have been made upon a company, the entire business of which are as small as any city company's policy in fighting the Following is a letter sent to Mr. George C. Smith, president board of control of the union depot, and the reply sent by Mr. Smith. The Atlanta Cab and Baggage Company holds the exclusive right to the depot, for which franchise it pays the board of government. As will be seen, what Mr. Kates's company wants is to

My Dear Sir: We will be obliged to you if you can, consistently inform us as to the date of the expiration of the contract of the company which now has the exclusive right to the baggage privileges This request is based upon the desire of the undersigned company to make a bid for the same privileges now held by the company which has the monopoly of the privileges of the depot.

"I beg to say, in this connection, that I am prepared in hehalf of my company to enter into a contract with the board of control of the depot, by which we will for the full period of our contract agree to deliver baggage to any part of the city of Atlanta, and even to any territory which might hereafter be taken into the city, at a uniform maximum rate of 25 cents, with only 15 cents for baggage delivered to points within less than one mile of the depot.

"We are likewise ready to give bond to the board of control to the extent of $10,000 for the faithful performance of this obligation. This bond will be made either through acceptable business men, or through any fidelity company that the board of control may designate.

Mack Dodson was a believer in that stronge creed called Shermanism. The sum and substance of this weird dogma is that man who has faith will never die; that he will live right he will some day be saught up to heaven in a charlot of fire,

Many Shermanites Near Here. Very few people in Atlanta know Sher-man or know that his religion exists, yet in a few miles of the city there are hundreds of men who believe they will neve die. In north Alabama Sherman has a 10lowing estimated at 10,000 men. They may not be known as Shermanites, for quently the only evidence of their belief is their quaint way and long hair.

The main basis for the belief is found in swore he pressed the sale of "Apple Jack" as much as he did the sale of the "C. I. B.," the brand of tobacco which carried his the eighth chapter of John. This is the passage of scripture which Dodon said was his promise: John viii, 51. "Verily, erily I say unto you, if a man keep My others were: "Verily, verily, I say unto

No records were broken and the shooting was not of the startling quality which the officers expected. Two companies only the others expected. Two chapters of the date and present, the Capital City Guards, Company B of the regiment, had, four men on the range and the Barnes-ville Blues, Company I, two. The other companies had none. The captains of these said their men could not get off from their work long enough to go on the range and work long enough to go on the range and

At 2 o'clock the riflemen began to gather on the range and in a few minutes the shooting commenced. Everything was in good shape, and, notwithstanding the hot sun, the men went into the fray with the determination to do their best, but the score shows a falling off from their former records. The targets were the same as used in all the other shoots and were rapidly manipulated by the men in the pits, who were kept busy by the incessant firing of the men on the range.

As fast as one distance was covered an-other stand would be taken and the targets would be punctured from the new position A number of bull's-eyes were made, es-pecially by Foster and Bankston. The best average shooting was done at the 500 yards and the worst at 600 yards, not in-cluding the skirmish, which seemed to rattle some of the men.

Fumigation Goes On.

The fumigation of baggage at the union depot continues and a new and larger ma-chine is now in use. It was ordered from New York especially for the work in At-lanta. Drs. Sawtell and Drake are superintending the work. Dr. Stone is satisfied with the yellow fever situation in Atlanta. He signs all the certificates of persons going to Savannan though the quarantine regulations of that city have been very considerably modified. The regulations were modified on account of the favorable reports made by Dr. Stone. The board of health is pleased with the situation and no further case of the fever is anticipated. There has been no relaxa-tion in the rigidness of the train inspections and the requirements necessary to obtain a health certificate. The sanitary department has the city in excellent condition and gives the sewers a good flushing doing quite as large business now as previously, but the officers are kept pretty busy all the time.

Says There Is No Danger of Epidemic. A private letter to a member of The Con-stitution's staff from Mr. James M. Cloud, a well-known attorney of Mobile, gives some interesting information on the situation in that city. He says that some of the panic stricken people who fled to Atlanta and other points have given ludicrous and terrible accounts of the fever situation in Mobile and New Orleans. It is true that there is yellow fever in Mobile and New Orleans and along the coast, he says, but to say that there is danger of a great epidemic te ridiculous. He praises Atlanta for demic is ridiculous. He praises Atlanta for the spirit she displayed in allowing the yellow fever refugees to enter her gates. The facts of the situation on the date of the letter, September 25th, according to Mr. Cloud, are these: There are 400,000 people in New Orleans, Mobile and the intervening coast cities. Up to that time there had been only about forty-two deaths, which is about one in every 10,000. The chance of dying of the fever, says Mr. Cloud, is the same as the chance a person would have to win a big prize in some lottery. death rate, notwithstanding the fever scare is less than the average for September for several years. Mr. Cloud is at present in Mobile with his family and expects to remain there. Everything possible is being done, he says, to stamp out the fever and he has confidence that the danger will soon be at an end. According to the letter, business has been almost prostrated, but confidence is being restored and it is expected that soon the wheels of commerce will begin to revolve again. Business, he says, is slowly beginning to revive and were it not for strict quarantines against Mobile business would soon be under full headway again.

Mr. Dunning's Experience. Mr. Vol Dunning is one of the citizens of Atlanta who does not believe yellow feve will spread here. As illustrating his belief in the matter the following personal ex perience which he relates may be taken as strong proof of his position:
"In regard to the spreading of yellow fever among citizens of Atlanta and their liability to take it from persons coming from infected places, a personal experience may serve to quiet the fears of some not so confident as I am. In 1876 our sister city, Savannah, was scourged with yellow fever, and my sister and her husband, Mr. Joseph M. Pharr, were stricken, the latter being sectorical the Leavest these with their two severely ill. I caused these, with their two children, to be brought to my house at 105 Rawson street, in this city, about September 20, 1876, where they were nursed and cared for by my family and were attended by Dr. W. L. Cleveland. They remained with me until November 17th, returning home in good health. Mr. Pharr is now an officer in the Citizens' bank, Savannah, and knows these facts. Sister died ten years the free two routher's contact with value. later. After two months' contact with yel-lew fever none of my family became sick or suffered in the least, and you can just say that I don't think or believe it will spread among citizens of Atlanta.

generally agree that the situation is steadi are growing more remote every day of an epidemic and that there is little likelihood that the disease will assume, before cold weather, a much more virulent form than at present. Says Dr. Edmonds Souchon, one of the leading physicians here:

of the leading physicians here:

"Before yellow fever can be declared epidemic in New Orleans there must be more cases of this disease than of all others combined. The death rate does not determine whether or not the pestilence is epidemic. It only determines the grade, as to whether the disease is mild, severe or very severe. The average death rate during an epidemic is 20 per cent. Now in addition to the numerous favorable conditions that sucround the present introduction of yellow fever, there is another, and this is the greatest of all; it is the fact that the medical profession now understand the treatment of the disease far better than in the old days. This will contribute greatly to determine the serious character of the disease, for we understand the principles of treatment now infinitely better than we did before."

Professor Metz, who is at the head of the Professor Metz, who is at the head of the works of sanitation and who superintends the fumigation of all houses, said to the Associated Press reporter tonight:

Associated Press reporter tonight:

"Some little figuring that I have done discloses the fact that there have been up to 6:30 o'clock tonight exactly 158 cases. Of these nineteen have died, and I am able to state this evening that thirty-eight have been actually discharged as entirely recovered. There, therefore, remain only 101 cases, and while I should not like to undertake a statement of the number of these practically on the way to recovery, the death rate among them with present conditions will be small. The death rate tonight is barely above 12 per cent."

THE CASE AGAINST REFUGEE OLIVER

He Is Arrested on a Charge of Circulating False Reports

ABOUT THE YELLOW FEVER

Said To Have Been Nursing a Friend

on a Spree. THE CASE WILL BE TRIED TODAY

It Is Not Thought He Will Be Fined by the Recorder-What the Charge Is.

A Mobile refugee was arrested yesterday morning charged with violating the new city ordinance forbidding any person to circulate false reports about the yellow fever or smallpox being in this city.

The refugee is John S. Oliver, and he is a guest at the Leland hotel. As stated in yesterday's Constitution, Oliver was accused of stating that he knew of a case of yellow fever in Atlanta which had not been reported to the health authorities. In some way the health officers heard that Oliver had made such a statement and his arrest occurred about 11 o'clock yesterday morning. He was allowed to go on his own bond and the case will be tried this morn

The charge against the Mobilian, as booked on the police docket is as follows: "Circulating a false report that there was a case of yellow fever on Houston street n the city of Atlanta, and that he knew the fact of the existence of such a case o with it every night, these statements being made to persons at the Leland hotel on Houston street, on the 25th and the 26th of September, 1897, in violation of an ordinance of said city approved September 20, 1897." Some of the guests at the Leland state that Oliver has been going out early every night for the past, week or more, and that when asked where he was spending his evenings he told some one that he was nursing a case of yellow fever. This may have been, and was probably, meant as a joke, if Oliver really did say it. It is also stated that Oliver has a friend here from Mobile who has been on a spree and that he has been going to see that friend and that that was the case of "yellow fever." Oliver says he will make a statement to he recorder which will put him in his right light. He denies having circulated any false report as charged. Oliver is a very prominent young man in Mobile, and he came here with the other refugees to escape the yellow fever. He feels, as he says, the same gratitude to the people of Atlanta that all the other refugees feel, and would be among the last persons in the world to do anything which would in-

Mobile business men are much affronted that Montgomery quarantines against all mail from Mobile, whether fumigated not, yet lets New Orleans mail in and distributes it to Mobile's trade territory. President George A. Ketchum, of the Mobile board of health, in his address to-night reviews the situation here, stating the number of cases and deaths as given in tonight's dispatch and adding that, with few exceptions, the deaths have occurred in the one infected district bounded by George, Palmetto, Bayou and New Jersey

"The fight against the spread of the infection has been so vigorously conducted that the board has the satisfaction of knowing that at the close of the second week of this outbreak it is evident there were twenty-four cases as against thirty during the first week, and the disease has not prevailed to any extent outside of the originally infected area. Much detail work has received the proper attention of the hoard not necessary to dwell upon in this brief notice, all of which will, we hope, aid in ameliorating the condition of our citizens and inspire them with the belief that the situation is not so dark and gloomy as it has been painted. "A expensal health of the city is excellent, and under the improved sanitary condition in which it is being placed, we may hope that it may so continue." "The fight against the spread of the in-

SHOWER BATHS FOR FREIGHT CARS

They Will Get a Good Sprinkling with Bichloride of Mercury.

WEST POINT WILL START TODAY

IT IS NOT A VERY EXPENSIVE PROCESS Alabama's Strict Quarantine Is Hurting the Business of Its Towns. Orders Going Elsewhere.

Both the Southern railway and the Atlanta and West Point will begin disinfecting their cars today with bichloride of mercu-

President George C. Smith said that he was having a sprinkling apparatus put up on a side track in West End. The cars will be run under the reservoir and be treated to a shower bath of the disinfectant. About fifty gallons will be used to the car. Each freight car will be thoroughly sprinkled inside and out, top and bottom. The disinfectant is cheap and the expense will not be heavy.
Formaldehyde is being used for the passenger cars. The passenger business on the Atlanta and West Point has fallen off rapidly the past week. There are no through passen gers for Montgomery and hardly any on for New Orleans. Freight is moving from Alabama into Atlanta, but none from here into Alabama. Montgomery and some other Alabama points are losing heavily or to have the quarantine against Atlanta raised.

The railway officials say they cannot tell how much the quarantine will cost them. They think there is a chance to get further modifications in the regulations before long. Alabama has not quarantined against St Louis or Louisville, although both have had cases of fever and Louisville has had a death or two. The medical advisers of the railway managers say that if the fever does not appear this week among Atlanti-ans, it will not break out at all and there will not be the slightest danger of the disease reaching other cities from here.

Birmingham in reported to be losing some heavy coal orders from this section because of the quarantine. The orders are placed in East Tennessee, which does not require disinfection of cars from Atlanta. There are some New Orleans people in Atlanta who are waiting for the twenty days to expire. Some of these people left home on business, expecting to be allowed to return, but found themselves shut out by the twenty-day rule against refugees.

In Texas business is paralyzed. So many In Texas business is paralyzed. So many small towns quarantined against the world that some of the railroads have quit running trains. As a rule, forty-eight hours without mail or freight brings about a modification of the quarantine. It is charged in several instances in Texas that the health authorities are playing to the grand stand, as they quarantine on mere rumors.

there is anything but freight landed from these boats. Mobile has very little the appearance of a town undergoing the fever.

None of the business houses, whether wholesale or retail, are closed, and all are doing some business, although several thousand of the well-to-do people are gone to escape the fever.

After serious illness Hood's Sarsaparilla has wonderful building up power. It purifies, the blood and restores perfect health.

Savannah's precautions are pronounced the most conservative and sensible of all. That city has Dr. Stone here to issue health certificates and it is satisfied with ten days residence in Atlanta, or an absence of ten days from infected places and several people are detained in Atlanta waiting for their twenty days to run by. New York, September 27.-The stock market today showed a very marked falling of in activity, the total sales of stocks reach trivity was in part due to the observance of the Jewish New Year holiday by many brokers and operators. But there was beside a disposition on the part of many large interests which have recently been active in the market to stand aside for the time being and allow prices to take their own course. The professional element, which has now very generally espoused the bear side, was not active today. Prices rose after the opening in sympathy with the quotations received from London, and there was buying also for London account here. Later some of the trade is professed to be disappointed at the size of the increase shown in the August gross earnings of Omaha, and that stock was sold down sharply. The decrease in the freight ton-nage shipped eastward from Chicago last depression of prices. Rock Island was one of the stocks under special pressure. The market receded below Saturday's close under the influence, the decline in Rock Island extending to 1¼, but only a fractional amounts in other stocks. There was also a recession from the best at the close, so that the extreme advance during the day considerably exceeded the net gain. All the general news continued to favor ad-vancing prices and, free from professional The money market confinued to attract the greatest share of interest, as the future course of speculation is felt to largely depend on the supplies of money. The tone of the market was somewhat easier today, but owing to the largest policy. but owing to the lack of animation in the stock market there was little demand. Shipments of currency to the interior con-tinue in large volume, and it is believed this demand will not be exhausted for some this demand will not be exhausted for some time yet. Several of the leading banks in the city already show their reserve reduced below the 25 per cent limit and several others have almost exhausted their surplus reserve. It is believed that a further contraction of loans to a considerable amount will be necessary to provide against withdrawals for use in the interior. In looking for relief from possible stringency to imports of gold it is felt that the comparative ease of the London morey market must be considered as in some sort fictitious, the rate being kept down with the purpose of alding the Indian government in floating its loan. Russia and Austria-Hungary continue an active competition for gold and there is a large balance in the bank of England which Japan has the power to withdraw. London, in fact, fears dear money, and it is believed withdrawals of gold on a large scale for shipment to the United States will precipitate a sharp rise in the rates for money and wild thus gold on the large scale for gold and there is a sharp rise in the rates for money and wild thus singles the large of which shipment to the United States will precipitate a sharp rise in the rates for money and would thus induce the leaving of funds there by American creditors, unless the increase in money rates here was sufficient to counteract this condition. The foreclosure sale of the Union Pacific and the withdrawal of $30,000,000 or $400,000,000 of cash, which it will necessitate, is a matter that looms in the perspective money situation. Under these conditions it is believed there will not be immediately any such resumption of activity in stock speculation as has characterized the market for many months post.

Swanson & Co.'s Stock Letter. Atlanta, September 27.—The bull element was favored by a higher range of prices from London, and early transactions were characterized by firmness. Prices generally were fractionally above Saturday's close.

The grangers led in point of strength, followed by Chesapeake and Ohio and Missouri, Kansas and Texas preferred, while the depressed shares included Tennessee Coal and Iron Improved conditions, and a setback was immediately effected.

Manhattan opened up 1½ per cent, but lost the gain.

Speculation was irregular in tone, but the bear traders met with considerable more resistance than last week. London's purchases aggregated 10,000 to 12,000 shares 12,000 shares.

The general market turned dull and fever-sh. The pressure was directed against in-dividual stocks, Lead and Baltimore and dividual stocks, Lead and Baltimore and Ohlo falling 14 per cent.

A steadier tone developed with fractional rallies, but duliness was still apparent. Lead recovered 14 per cent.

The recoverles became general later, the entire list improved and the market closed very steady at better prices than the opening figures.

Atlanta, September 27.—The stock market suffered a reaction after opening firm and fractionally higher, but it was turned into buoyancy by the semi-official announcement that the government would accept the foreclosure and reorganization programme of the bankers' committee.

An additional stimulus to the recovery was given by the brilliant railroad gress and net reports published today, as well as by more peaceful political advices and the better outlook for stamping out yellow fever in the south.

fever in the south.

The returns of the railways in the south were especially indicative of the slight interruption to business caused by the prevalence of the disease in scattered locali-ion prospects. Some of the railroad specialties advanced Some of the rainoad specialties advanced sharply.

In the industrials, Sugar, after unsettled fluctuations, rose over 2 per cent.

The market closed strong at material gams from Saturday.

Stock Letter.

New York September 27.—The stock market showed considerable improvement over Saturday's prices, cables from London quoting Americans firm at % to ½ per cent higher, together with some buying for foreign account, being the principal cause. Chicago, Burlingsten and Quincy is looked upon with favor in expectation of a further increase in earnings.

United States Leather and General Flectric are believed by many a good investment, in view of improved conditions.

We look for higher prices in the next few days, the tone of the market being in that direction.

New York, September 27.—The Evening Post's financial cablegram says: The stock market was idle here today pending the market was idle here today pending the settlement which begins tomorrow and the Hebrew holiday. The tone, however, was steady. Americans opened dull on the New York lead, and then rallied to over the parity, on German buying. Then New York sold this afternoon notably Atchison adjustment and prices were merely steady at the close. Bid options fall due tomorrow on Louisville. St. Paul and others, and in smuch as profits were secured some time ago, these shares will not have to be taken in. They will, therefore, probably be less scarce for delivery than at the last account. The mining settlement today was feature-The mining settlement today was feature-less. Rates were fairly stiff. Tomorrow money rates may possibly be 4 per cent higher than a month ago. Gold was in less demand today at 77s 1144d. There was a falling off in the sup-Illyd. There was a raining depropried in the Paris and Berlin markets were qu'et. An article in The Journal des Debats hinting that the French mint might be willing to open silver at the ratio of 15½ to 1 excites discussion here.

Paine, Murphy & Co.'s Cotton Letter. Atlanta, September 27.-Under the influence of a weak pool market, heavy port ence of a weak pool market, heavy port receipts and renewed liquidation on the part of discouraged holders, the New York market opened weak 2 to 11 points under Saturday's close. At the opening the near months suffered most, the market becoming steadler as the call progressed, the more distant months making a loss of only 2 to 3 points. Prices consequently adjusted themselves to a basis of 6 to 7 points under Saturday's close, and closed barely steady at that point. It must be admitted that from a speculative standpoint the market at present offers very little encouragement. Both consumers and speculators continue to hold off from the market, evidently in anticipation of still lower prices, and there is consequently an insufficient buying power to absorb the daily offerings. The feeling here favors lower prices as long as the movement continues heavy, but receipts must soon show a considerable increase over last season to justify the expectations of a 100 000 area. The regime receipts may be a considerable increase over the statement of the continues over the receipts must soon show a considerable increase over last season to justify the expectations of a 100 000 area. The day's port receipts 46.504 last week and 58.475 last year. The fear of a strike at Manchester appears to be in a measure responsible for the decline, but such an event is by no means assured, and the best opinion seem to be that it is improbable. With prices rapidly nearing a point at which spinners the world over will be willing to replenish their depleted stocks of the raw material, and which should attract greater speculation attention, to say nothing of the fact that we are now only about 3c higher than the low price reached when we made our first crop of 9.800.000 bales, at which time we started the season with decidedly a greater surplus of supplies, and with consumptive requirements materially below those at present, cotton would appear to be selling upon relatively as low a basis as ever before in the history of the trade, even admitting of the possibility of a crop of 10,000.000 bales. New Orleans receipts tomorrow, 11,000 to 13000, against 22,331 last year; Houston 20,350 to 20,500, against 17,500 last year. New York spots 3c lower; sales 90 bales; middling uplands 6 c.

Clesed steady; sales 20,300 bales. Hubbard Bros. & Co.'s Cotton Letter. New York, September 27.—Liverpool and Manchester seem unable to withstand the heavy offerings from the south and the constant reiteration of the large crop estimates. They believe the movement to be interfered with by the yellow fever scare and are looking for a crop in excess of 10,000,000 bales and buy each day only what they need appearing to say to America: into the country of t

Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

New York, September 27.—(Special.)—At the close of the cotton market today the outlook was very dark. Liverpool broke sharply, declining 3½-64d. Port receipts were very heavy. Our market opened 11 points down on the near positions. Before the end of the call a good buying demand became evident, however, and the later months opened only from 6 to 2 points below last night's closing figures. After the opening there was more for sale, and the market adjusted fiself to a level of about 6 points below last night, at which it ruled comparatively steady until just before the close. Heavy selling by one prominent concern then caused prices to go slightly lower. January opened at 6.37, again gave way and closed at 6.38 with the tone of the market barely steady. There is no change in sentiment here. The general expectation is that cotton will go lower. Although the surroundings certainly seem to point that way, we cannot advise our friends to make short sales. Riordan & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

The Dry Goods Market.

New York, September 27.—The Jewish holiday had a deadening effect on the dry goods market today. Mail orders were few, and store trading was not neavy in any division of the market. Suspie cottons show a fairly well sustained demand in some grades. Brown sheetings in the lighter weights are firm and in steady demand. Bleached goods are quiet in nearly all lines. Coarse colored cottons are firm and unchanged. Printing cloths are very quiet and without change from the nominal extra quotation of 27sc. Printed goods are well sustained considering the quiet market. The woolen goods market shows no change.

Atlanta, September 27.—We have to record another unsatisfactory day for holders of cotton and 8 points more taken from the value of their property. As on Saturday, the decline was about all made in the opening, and only a range of 4 points during the day. Liverpool was expected to be down, but possibly not so much. Port receipts are heavy at 61,500, against

New Orleans estimates receipts for tomorrow 10,000 to 13,000, against 22,000 last year; Houston 20,000 to 20,50, against 17,500 last year. Our spot market is weak and irregular today and quoted 1-16c down and the Atlantic ports are easily 1-16c lower.
The 6c mark has been broken in New Orleans today, and we do not believe the bears will feel as comfortable trading with a five as the first figure of their contracts. We hear that at the decline there is some disposition on the part of spot cotton shorts to cover. There is little of interest to write about and very little in sight at present to encourage any one to buy cotton.

New York, September 27.—By Associated Press: The cotton market opened firrgular and weak in tone, but gathered strength as the first call proceeded, starting at a decilne of 11 points and concluding with the decline reduced to 2 points. Following the first call the near months improved and the later morths declined. By noon there was a general decline of 5@7 points. The forenoon weakness was directly due to unfavorable English advices, the Liverpool showing a loss at the opening of 1@2 points. The loss was increased at the close to 3@4 points, with the market over there finally easy at the lowest prices of the day. Spot sales in Liverpool were a decided disappointment. At the same time recelpts at the ports were over a heavy scale for the day, and indications as to the movement for the week also pointed to a burdensome weight of new cotton. There was no outside or speculative buying, and all the support the market had came from shorts, who were inclined to take profits. At the lowest point the market showed a decline of 3@11 points. There was several ralles on covering, but in the main the undertone of the market was decidedly weak with the tone finally barely steady at a net decline of 7@10 points.

Atwood Violett, Lockwood & Co.'s Cotton Letter.

Cotton Letter.

New York, September 27.—Spot holders still seem to be hedging here against a further decline by selling contracts. European and American spinners find no inducement to buy cotton in the face of the large movement. Last week the movement was only slightly less than the same week last year, and so far this week shows that the producer is losing no time in getting his crop to a shipping point. The decline is not so much due to liquidation of long interests as to the character of selling above mentioned. No commodity flooding the market as cotton does in the first four months of the season is likely to find a rising or even stationary market unless buyers are more urgent than sellers; which, under such efrecumstances, they seldom are. When cotton advances under such conditions it is generally because of speculation in contracts, and not by reason of spot buying. Cotton looks to us cheap enough to buy on the basis of January contract

Drought in West Starts Shorts to Buying and Wheat Recovered-Other

Markets Higher.

Chicago, September 27.-Wheat was firm today in spite of a large array of bear news, December closing at 1/46% advance. Drought reports are beginning to attarct a great deal of attention and were influential today, causing the slight advance. Strength was also a feature of corn, which closed 1/40%c higher. Oats advanced 1/6015c Provisions were strong and closed 10@15c higher.

Wheat was very weak at the closing, the initial sales of December, which closed Saturday at 91%c, ranging from 90% to from all surplus-producing countries was over 9,600,000 bushels. Those prices were tempting to shorts, who started to cover immediately, and in the course of an hour immediately, and in the colors of an hour nearly all the opening decline had been recovered. Scalpers ran the market for the first half haur of the session. After that the trading, though, quiet, was of a more general character. The advance, in spite of the fact that the more fresh information that came in was of a bear character. The only important matter of a different character was the clearances from the principal Atlantic ports, which in wheat and flour together amounted to 750,000 bushels. December sold up to 91c, declined to 96% and from that point gradually rose of 191% c. It sild off again to 20% c, however, on the announcement of the unexpectedly large visible increase. Statistician Snow large clearances and an advance in contingant the spring wheat 25,000,000 bushels and the spring wheat 25,000,000 bushels. The amount on ocean passage increased 1,680,000 bushels for the week. Primary market receipts for the day were 1,776,000 bushels, against 1,356,000 bushels a year ago. Available supply increase 2,403,000 bushels, whereas only about 1,000,000 bushels and the spring wheat 225,000 bushels and the spring wheat 225,000 bushels as year ago. Available supply increase 2,403,000 bushels, whereas only about 1,000,000 bushels. The lower opening in corn brought out a large demand from the short interest and this buying has been the influential bull factor in today's market. Elevators were the principal sellers. Cables were lower; the visible increased 1,500,000 bushels and there was an ircrease of 800,000 bushels and there was an ircreased 1,500,000 bushels and the cater of the principal sellers. Scalpers ran the market for the first half haur of the session. After that wheat section are growing more general every day. Seeding, it is said, is being greatly retarded. These reports were very influential during the morning. The market grew quite strong toward the close Good support came from New York, and December advanced to 91%91%c and closed at 91%@91%c. Corn, like wheat, was weak at the oper ing, principally through sympathy with that market. The market soon turned strong and remained so during the remainder of the session. Shorts were lib-eral buyers, holders of puts also support-ing the marke. The advance was partly due to sympathy with wheat. The Gry weather west, necessitating the feeding of corn to stock on account of the drying up of the pastures, was a factor. Receipts were 637 cars. Visible increased 1,860,000 bushels. Clearances were 412,000 bushels. Elevator people were the best sellers. December ranged from 297% 30c to 2014c, osing 14@%c higher at 29%@30c. Oats, in common with other grain mar-kets, were easy and lower around the opening. Later shorts were good buyers with the urgent inquiry for cash oats from tside points caused a rally which closed e session with a firm feeling. The market for the most part was only fairly uctive. Visible supply increased $7,000 bush-cis. Receipts were 598 cars. December ranged from 20¼ to 19%@20c, closing %c higher at 20%c.

Led here Saturday, a decline of about 2c in Liverpool, an increase of 1.680, 000 bushels on passage and a slight increase in the Russian and Danublan shipments were the bearish considerations in the wheat market at the opening and prices in consequence opened off about 1c per bushel from last week's close. The feeling for a while was very weak, prospects for a large increase in the visible supply being another feature which encouraged short selling. The buying for a while was not attractive, but later in the session increased, orders coming both from New York and St. Louis. At the same time the

Their spacious home on Jackson street is well adapted to large entertainments, and was beautifully decorated yesterday afternoon in palms and pink and white roses In the dining room the table was 'artistle honiton lace centerpiece had holding it in place bow knots of plnk and white satin,

The charming hostesses received their guests in the drawing room and were assisted by a bevy of beautiful young women. Miss Stephens wore a toilet of pale violet brocade satin with trimmings of white mousselaine de soie. Miss Edith Stephens wore white taffeta silk trimmed in white chiffon. Miss Ransford wore white silk muslin over taffeta. Miss Allen and Miss Dubose, the honored guests of the occasion, both wore pink silk, and were very much admired for their beauty and attractiveness. Miss Leontine Chisholm and Miss Emmle May Burden wore pink. Miss Idolene Edwards wore green. Miss Lulu Belle Hemphill wore pale lavender silk and lace. Miss Louise Todd was charming in a toilet of black and white. Miss Evelyn Orme wore pure white, and Miss Julia Ridley, of LaGrange, wore pure white. The sub-committee of the executive committee held an important meeting in the Kiser building yesterday morning and several matters relating to the election were considered and disposed of. The managers and clerks of the primary on October 8th were chosen and the arrangements for printing and other details were made. The session was a lengthy one and the work preliminary to the election was advanced. The sub-committee members who were present at the meeting were: Chairman M. G. Parker, W. H. Brotherton, H. L. Wilson, W. H. Patterson, F. M. Potts and D. M. Vining, representing six of the seven wards. The other member of the committee, L. Z. Rosser, of the seventh ward, did-not attend. Captain Dick Rust, secretary of the committee, was on hand to explain what has been done in the last week to-ward arranging for the election.

The list of managers and clerks of last year's election was used by the committee in electing managers and clerks for the coming primary and nearly all of those main the old managers and clerks were re-

GOV. TAYLOR WON'T RESIGN. Tennessee's Governor Has Changed His Mind on That Matter.

Governor Bob Taylor, of Tennessee, w not resign next month, as it was reported that he would do. Governor Taylor stated during the early summer months that he would resign in October, as soon as the Centennial was over. It was understood then that the reason for this move was that he wanted to devote his time the lecture platform, which was a great deal more remunerative. But he has changed his mind.

"No, I will not resign until my term expires," he stated to a Constitution representative while here Sunday. "I have de-

MASS MEETING LAST NIGHT

Iron Molder Thompson Makes an Inquiry, but Is Left Unsatisfied.

WAS IT A MEETING OF LABOR MEN?

He Did Not Think So and Refused To Participate-How the Crowd Selected Its Ticket.

About 109 men assembled in the basement of the county courthouse last night and nominated a ticket to be voted for in the coming primary. The meeting carried out what seemed to be a previously understood programme. It was a meeting of a few workingmen, several dozen politicial workers and some citizens attracted by

The best of humor prevailed and the meet ing adjourned in a hilarious mood. Everybody seemed to make light of the work before the fneeting and candidates were nominated with a whoop and for the most part according to the order in which their names were placed before the assembly The first man nominated stood the best chance and there was a clamor among the leaders to get their favorites before the meeting first. And they generally soc-

Thompson Asks a Question.

It was understood that the meeting would be one of the labor men of the city. There was some doubt about the character of the assembly in that respect. One well-known labor union man, Mr. John S. Thompson, president of the Iron Molders' Union, who is recognized as one of the leaders of the workingmen of the city, evidently formed the opinion that the meeting was not a labor meeting and he took occasion to arise and ask the chairman was had called the meeting, if it was really called by fabor men and in the interest of labor men The knotty question was disposed of by the chairman, who said Mr. Thompson would have to ask the leaders who called the meeting, as he was not there to discuss whose meeting it was. Fading to get satisfaction, Mr. Thompson refused to participate in the meeting as a union man After that the crowd was disposed to be disorderly and the chairman, Mr. E. A. McArthur, experienced considerable trouble first insisted on hearing from the candidates, but after a lively debate it was decided to proceed with the nominations without any speeches. The Evils of Politics. The meeting was called to order by W. E. Simmons. He called for nominations for chairman. Mr. McArthur was elected without opposition. Dr. J. H. Booth as nominated for secretary. He wais d to the desk and before taking his seat sailed a typewritten set of resolutions from his pocket and said he wanted them con-sidered by the meeting. Before reading the resolutions, Mr. Boozer delivered a speech on the evils of politics. He said men should not hold office too long at a time. It caused them to become indifferent to the public interest and indifference breeds corruption. He scored secre, sessions and secret work and said the rotation system should prevail a positics. He then explained that he had not written the resolutions. Other leaders of the meeting also took occasion to say that they had nothing to do with getting up the resolutions.

The resolutions were adopted, but they were not obeyed by the meeting. Instead of non-finating the candidates, as provided by the resolution, by ballot, the meeting decided that that method would take too long a time and it was decided to nomias to which candidate's friends had the loudest voices at times, but the ruling of the chairman was nearly always satisnomination was declared, which seemed to many to be the reverse of the vote. But it was a good-humored crowd and the pro-

In the event the amendment to the school bill, should become a law. to the school bill should become a law and the $15,000 proposed to be raised is secured Fulton would secure graded public schools for the rural districts which would be in session eight months of the year and would be conducted almost identically as the city graded schools are.

The amendment will be before the legisature this fall. If it passes and is allowed to go before the people, and it is said there will be no opposition in the house, the vote would be taken early during next spring, and should the people adopt the bill the new regime would be effective next fall. new regime would be effective next tail. The movement to increase the school fund by means of taxation is not entirely new, neither is it original with Fulion county. Bibb, Chatham and Richmond counties are already levying an annual tax for the support of the schools, and it is claimed in these counties that the plan is quite an improvement upon the old plan of relying entirely upon the school fund from the state.

"We have new about fifty schools in Fulton county," said County School County. We have now about hity schools in Fulton county," said County School Comnissioner Guinn yesterday. The sum given annually by the state of $12,000 is not sufficient and we cannot build and equip new schools with this small amount of money. If the amendment to the school bill is successful in the house and before the people we will be able to furnish county pupils every advantage of the city graded grammar schools. mar schools.

"We want a term of eight months, and it is absolutely necessary to the pupils. Then we want to build some new houses and we wish to enter into the territory where there are no school advantages. Are you going to marry? Are you planning to keep house? Do not begin in a rented house. It can never be a real home. Have you $500 to $500 cash? We will sell you a pretty cottage at Kirkwood, on large lot, and furnish to suit your taste. One-fourth cash on entire purphase, balance in monthly notes not much more than rent. Paying cent does not always enrich the landlord, but surely keeps you "poor indeed."
